ABSTRACT

Compiled in chart form are the results of a questionnaire sent to junior colleges asking about architectural barriers and accessibility for students with handicapping conditions. The chart indicates which of the following conditions exist at each college: entrances ramped or ground level; doors wide enough for wheelchairs (both outside and inside doors); doors operable from wheelchair; drinking fountains, washrooms, other facilities accessible and useable by handicapped; elevator if multi-floors; and students attend in wheelchairs. Junior colleges are listed in the directory by state. (KW)

Accessibility of Junior Colleges for Handicapped

A Survey by the Education Committee of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped

INTRODUCTION

In America many handicapped young people with high potentials, great interest and need for advanced education are denied educational opportunities by architectural and other environmental barriers. These barriers exist for the most part because of a lack of consideration not because of deliberate acts.

The President's Committee in association with numerous national, state and local organizations, both public and private, has engaged in a crusade to eliminate such barriers. The effects of this crusade have reached and are reaching some institutions of high learning particularly the Junior Colleges which have increased in number and size during the past decade.

Recognizing this rapid growth in building and size and the potential educational opportunities for handicapped persons, the President's Committee asked Junior Colleges about their architectural barriers and accessibility for students with handicapping conditions.

The information contained in this booklet was compiled from responses to questionnaires sent to the Junior Colleges. The responses represent 50 percent of those polled. This tabulation reflects considerable improvement in accessibility for handicapped persons—thus providing a wider choice to handicapped persons who wish to pursue their education.

We believe that this guide can be helpful to handicapped individuals seeking higher education and to the many organizations which assist them to make their educational dreams—realities.
